

Smartphone Apps for Smart Farmers v2

Android
edition

This booklet was developed by Ag

Introduction

Background

The original version of this book was produced in November 2012, when the Ag Excellence team noticed that while increasing numbers of farmers were adopting smartphone/tablet technology, finding suitable apps was very difficult. It was our intention then to provide a booklet which gave farmers information about what apps were available and how the use of these could benefit them. Wherever possible, we have downloaded and road-tested the apps in this publication. However their inclusion in this booklet is not necessarily an endorsement of them; we are simply letting you know what's out there.

Version 2 has been produced for the simple reason that the original edition was out of date almost as soon as it was released. The world of apps is a fast-moving one, and in updating the publication, we found many apps whose information (price, file size, features) had changed, quite a few which were no longer available, and many, many new apps.

This publication is provided free of charge, in the interest of promoting the use of smartphone/tablet technology for improved management of farming systems. However, if your group wishes to share the resource online, please seek permission from, and acknowledge Ag Excellence Alliance Inc. when doing so. In some cases, permission may also need to be sought from the authors (Growing Solutions).

Some tips on finding good apps:

It is always advisable to check ratings and reviews before buying an app, particularly the more expensive ones. Bear in mind though, that some customers might have had a negative experience with the app because of issues with their device, network, or limited understanding of the app's function, and then leave an unfavourable review. So while it's wise to check them, they're not always completely reliable.

Many Android apps are not available for all Android devices. However if you search from your device, you will only see apps which are compatible with that device. If you prefer to search from your computer using the Google Play Store (formerly Android market), logging in before searching will ensure that you will be notified as to whether that app is compatible with your device.

Some apps reviewed are from overseas and although they might not be as relevant to all users, it was felt they may be of interest to some. Where the content is exclusively from another country, we have noted this with these icons:

 US Content

 Irish Content

Most of the iPhone apps reviewed here are also available for use on iPads. In some cases, you can use one app for either iPhone or iPad, in some cases, there is an app for each, and in some cases, the app is available for iPad only. These are noted using this icon:

 iPad Only

Data usage

As part of the description for each app, you will see an indication of the size of the app. This is important information, as the amount you download may be restricted by either your data allowance, or your device's capacity. It is recommended that you download a data usage app as soon as you get a smartphone or tablet; this will assist you in not going over your data allowance. There are data usage apps available for all the main carriers (Telstra, Optus, Vodaphone, & Virgin) in both iTunes and the Google Play store. Another interesting thing to note in relation to data usage is that depending on your device, you may find that you're unable to download apps over 20Mb using your 3G connection – you must connect to Wifi.

Changes:

Apps are continually being updated. Even if you have paid for an app, updates are provided free of charge. As a result of the updates, file sizes, functionality and pricing all fluctuate. The details in this booklet were correct at the time of publishing, but will vary in the future, so please check details carefully before downloading.

Similarly, some apps will sometimes be removed from the market for one reason or another.

Prices:

Many apps have a free version and a paid version. The paid versions are usually ad-free and have more functions. In most cases in this booklet, the paid version has been reviewed, and if there is a free version available, that is noted using this icon:

 Free Version available

	N Price Calculator	This app allows you to compare the price of various forms of nitrogen fertilizer products in terms of their price per pound of nitrogen. Nitrogen fertilizers such as anhydrous ammonia, urea, and urea ammonium nitrate (UAN) vary in their nitrogen content and are sold on a price per ton basis. This app converts the price of each fertilizer product from price per ton to price per pound of nitrogen -- allowing for "apples to apples" comparisons. The app then lets you add the price to a list of prices on a separate screen. In this manner, you build a price list to compare. By comparing the price per pound of nitrogen from multiple fertilizer sources on the N Price Calculator's Price List, the cheapest source of nitrogen can be identified. You can also e-mail the price list directly from the app, allowing you to save and share your best deals.	Free	792Kb	Internet not required	Android download here	Available for iOS

	Weed ID: The Ute Guide	Weed ID: The Ute Guide application is designed to assist growers in the identification of the most common weeds found in paddocks throughout Australia. Where possible, photos have been provided for each stage of the weed's lifecycle, from seed and seedling through to mature and flowering plants. These are categorised by plant type, and results for each can be refined by state and lifecycle, and whether they are native, currently flowering or have a distinctive smell.  New in this edition	Free	47Mb	Inter not required	Android download here	Available for iOS
	Yara CheckIT	Yara CheckIT is an agricultural smartphone app that gives farmers a photographic library of the crops to allow a simple and fast identification of possible nutrient deficiencies. Once the cause of the deficiency is established, the app gives the further information on how the deficiency affects that crop, what soil types are prone to this type of deficiency and what factors will make a deficiency worse. CheckIT provides a fertilizer recommendation to treat the identified deficiency, as well as alternative products which allow preventive treatment for the following growing season. The application is customized and localized on a market by market basis, for the crops and language	Free	50Mb	Internet required for some sections	Android download here	Available for iOS

		specific to the target country. CheckIT has been carefully designed to operate in rural locations with low signal strength. This enables farmers to have an on-the-spot, on-demand field analysis and recommendation for a crop deficiency in order to improve crop quality and increase yield. Users can reference photos of deficiencies in high definition, filter them by symptoms, the location of the symptom on the crop, or by the suspected cause of the symptom. CheckIT can also use mobile location services to provide contact information for the nearest Yara office.  New in this edition
PRODUCTION – Record Keeping
	AgDNA	AgDNA features include farm planning, record keeping, boundary mapping, worked area mapping, live equipment tracking, scouting observations, communication tools, data sharing and more. All data is synchronized with your free online AgDNA account allowing activity records and setup details to be viewed from a web browser or any other AgDNA enabled device. The app also operates offline and synchronizes all data automatically when an online connection is available.  New in this edition	Free	16Mb	Internet not required	Android download here	Available for iOS

	Connected Farm Scout	This app uses your smartphone or tablet for mapping field boundaries, locate irrigation pivots, marking flags, and entering scouting information for points, lines, and polygon areas. Scouting attributes include an extensive list of weeds, insects and diseases, and allows you to log the severity of a problem, crop conditions, and more. Photos can be captured and integrated with your scouting attributes. The Connected Farm scout app is also compatible with Trimble's GreenSeeker handheld crop sensor. Start by entering NDVI (Normalized Difference Vegetation Index) readings from the handheld so that the app can automatically calculate the rate of Nitrogen. The geo-referenced location of the NDVI point is also saved in the app.  New in this edition	Free	12Mb	Internet required	Android download here	Available for iOS
