Description:

Two storey main house attached to earlier single storey building. Main house is built of random coursed sandstone with Mount Gambier limestone surrounds to windows and doorways. Slate roof with corrugated galvanized iron hipped two storey return verandah with elaborate cast iron posts and balustrade. Two storey bay windows on north and south elevations. Dressed stone chimneys. The house is built in an elegant Italianate style with attention to detail. The interior of the house is the most impressive aspect of "Yallum Park" with original Victorian wallpapers, intricate plaster cornices and centrepieces and Italian marble fireplaces.

The final statement of the success as a pastoralist of John Riddoch (1828-1901).

HERITAGE SIGNIFICANCE

RECOMMENDATION: State

Description:

Built in the early 1860's, probably by John Riddoch after he had purchased the property from the Wells Bros. The name was conferred recently in recognition of Adam Lindsay Gordon's extended stays at "Yallum", he being a friend of Riddoch and a fellow M.P. Poems such as the 'Sick Stockrider' and 'From the Wreck' were written at "Yallum".
