Summary

This report has been prepared as part of the Heritage Conservation Branch's processing of City of Adelaide items reviewed by the Lord Mayor's Heritage Advisory Committee for possible inclusion on the State Register. This item was recommended by the Lord Mayor's Heritage Advisory Committee as well.

Historically, Nurney House is significant because it was built for C.H. Bagot who arrived in South Australia with his family in 1840 as a representative of the South Australian Commission. Bagot was one of the discoverers of the Kapunda Copper deposits, and a pastoralist as well.

Architecturally, Nurney House is significant for the manner in which it exemplifies the influences of the Italian Renaissance on Walter Bagot's additions of the 1930's. The design of the interior and loggia are particularly notable.

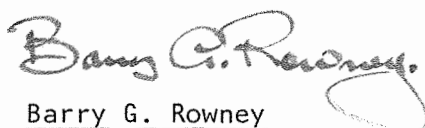

Environmentally, Nurney House is significant for the visual interest it creates behind the parklands. It is also important for the large block of land which has been retained and for the residential character of the area which it reinforces.

The Integrity of Nurney House is high in the context of the 1930's alterations and additions.

Nurney House is not on the National Trust or National Estate Register but has been recommended by the Lord Mayor's Heritage Advisory Committee.

Recommendation

It is recommended that Nurney House, 127 Kingston Terrace, North Adelaide be placed on the Register of State Heritage Items and be categorized A1, A2, H2.

NURNEY HOUSE

127 Kingston Terrace, North Adelaide

Historically, this building is significant because it was built for C.H. Bagot, pastoralist of Koomunga, and one of the discoverers of the Kapunda copper deposit. It is significant too for the manner in which it exemplifies the South Australian pastoralists penchant for living in the City. The Italianate redevelopment of the townhouse in 1930 exemplifies the fact that the S.A. well-to-do continually looked to Europe for cultural inspiration.

Architecturally, this building is significant for the manner in which it exemplifies influences from the Italian Renaissance. It is to the design of Walter Hervey Bagot whose overseas experience led to designs in Adelaide which reflected his interest in architectural history. Particularly important in this regard is the design of the garden and loggia dating from 1930, of which there are few if any peers. The detailing of the interior of the house is of special interest.

Environmentally, this building is important because it is situated on a large block and therefore reinforces the residential character of this locality although it has little landmark quality.

The original building was considerably altered in 1930, but thereby took on added distinctiveness. The integrity of this building is high.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN HERITAGE ACT, 1978

Entry of Items on the Register of State Heritage Items

There has been an increased community awareness of the need to protect those buildings and features of our State which reflect our cultural heritage. The South Australian Government has recognised that awareness by passing the South Australian Heritage Act, 1978, for which the Minister for Environment and Planning is responsible. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, the Register of State Heritage Items is being compiled.

Where the Minister considers that an item (defined as any land, building or structure) that is not on the Register is part of the physical, social or cultural heritage of the State and that the item is of significant aesthetic, architectural, historical or cultural interest, then the Minister may enter that item on the Register.

Pursuant to the provisions of the South Australian Heritage Act, 1978, I, Don Hopgood, Minister for Environment and Planning and Minister for the time being administering the said Act, hereby give notice that I have entered on the Register of State Heritage Items and the items described in The Schedule hereunder.

Items listed in The Schedule were previously placed on an Interim List in accordance with the provisions of Section 15 of the South Australian Heritage Act, 1978. Excepting items owned by the Crown and those within the area of the corporation of the city of Adelaide, the remaining items listed in The Schedule are subject to Part V of the Planning Act, 1982. That Act requires that no development, including demolition, conversion, alteration of, or addition to any item, is permitted without the written consent of the relevant Planning Authority. Items within the area of the corporation of the city of Adelaide are subject to the provisions of the City of Adelaide Development Control Act, 1976.
