HERITAGE SIGNIFICANCE

These very attractive buildings form a double row of paired, attached cottages. Nos. 1 and 3 lie alongside nos. 5 and 7, and look directly across the narrow roadway to nos. 2 and 4, adjacent to nos. 6 and 8. Constructed of bluestone with brick quoins and simple, hipped roofs of corrugated, galvanized iron, they were originally small, three roomed dwellings erected in the early 1880s for rental by Miss Rogers of Tusmore Park, whose family was a major landowner in the area.

Tucked away in this former cul-de-sac these workmen's cottages exemplify one end of the spectrum of the rapid development throughout the decade of a suburb which attracted much speculative building work and boasts a plethora of stone cottages and villas. They form an historical streetscape of great charm, character and interest.
